

Help participants prepare for life after the last paycheck

For decades, the retirement industry has focused on helping people accumulate assets. Today, participants face a different challenge: Turning retirement savings into income that lasts.

As pensions decline, workers are increasingly relying on their Defined Contribution (DC) plan savings to fund retirement.

The challenge? Most DC plans are tied to market performance. Once retirement begins, savings may need to support income for decades, making both market volatility and longevity risk more consequential.

Guaranteed lifetime income: A modern answer to a modern retirement

The Allianz Lifetime Income+® Annuity brings guaranteed lifetime income to your 401(k), 403(b), or 457 plan. It's a fixed index annuity (FIA) that sits alongside your existing plan lineup, and allows participants to convert a portion of their savings into guaranteed income that cannot be outlived.

By integrating this solution, you provide growth opportunity alongside built-in protection from market downturns, helping address the income challenge right where savings are built.

KEY FEATURES

Guaranteed income for life: Provides guaranteed lifetime income participants can't outlive – with the potential for increasing income.

Growth potential with downside protection: Offers the opportunity to earn interest based on changes in market indexes (up to a limit) while protecting all contributions and credited interest from market downturns.²

Flexibility and control: No annuitization required; participants can decide when (after age 60) and how to access income.

Seamless portability: Because it's an individual contract, participants can take their guarantees, benefits, and pricing with them if they change employers or retire, or if the plan makes a change.
